DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to Board of Appeal's decision dated 6/23/2006.
2. Claims 1-12 are presented for examination.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-12 are allowed.

With respect to claims 1-12, the closest prior art are: Barnett et al. (6,336,099 hereinafter Barnett) which teaches that the user log onto an entertainment appliance such as a PC and receives coupons for products that are advertised on the webpage. Von Kohorn (5,249,044 hereinafter Von Kohorn) teaches dispensing coupons through a television equipment. Article by Richard Tedesco, titled "NBC goes Interactive with fall lineup" teaches viewers clicking on ads. Storing and forwarding technology in the cable boxes that will enable transmission of the transactional information to the advertisers. Gifford (WO 95/16971) teaches merchant computers on the network maintain databases of digital advertisements that are accessed by buyer computers. In response to user inquiries, buyer computers retrieve and display advertisements from merchant computers.

As per Board of Appeal's decision dated 6/23/2006, combining Barnett with Von Kohorn would not lead to the claimed invention because the references do not utilize " a personal video recorder (PVR) that allows a viewer to select a coupon for a product that is advertised via a commercial that is displayed by the television receiver, said selection occurring via the remote control unit, and said PVR

transmitting the request for said coupon to a data processing device (making the television a two-way communication system), which transmits the request to a broadcaster central station; means included within said broadcaster central station for transmitting to a manufacturer coupon generator a coupon request....said manufacturer's coupon generator station also having available up to the minute point-of-sale information on the product of interest and coupon responses and redemptions regarding said product...and issuing a coupon to said viewer based on said analyzed information" " This patentable distinction is present in independent claim 1 .

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
